

Commas to the Rescue! Answers

Despite the rain, he didn't have his umbrella up.

My neighbour, who is called Mr Brown, owns a bear called Paddington.

Although it wasn't dark, the candle was burning brightly.

My favourite things to eat are chocolate, bread, apples and cheese and onion crisps.

Because my dad loves London, we often go for day trips.

Dramatically, the song finished with a bang.

The house, which had been up for sale for several months, was terribly dirty inside.

Commas to the Rescue! Answers

Can you classify the sentences according to why commas have been used?

To separate items in a list

- My favourite things to eat are chocolate, bread, apples and cheese and onion crisps.

To punctuate parenthesis or relative clauses.

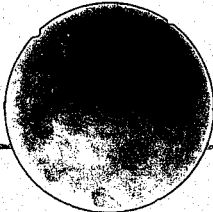

- My neighbour, who is called Mr Brown, owns a bear called Paddington.
- The house, which had been up for sale for several months, was terribly dirty inside.

After fronted adverbials

- Because my dad loves London, we often go for day trips.
- Dramatically, the song finished with a bang.
- Despite the rain, he didn't have his umbrella up.

Finding the Facts Answers

Use the information that you have read about the Moon to complete the information in the following table:

Question		Information
Length of the Moon's orbit	28 days (lunar month)	Distance from the Earth	238 857 miles
Diameter of the Moon	2160 miles	Average daytime temperature	107°C
Average night time temperature	-153°C

Don't 'Shun' These Words! Answers

Can you think of two more words with each of the letter strings above?

Possible answers include:

tion	nation	imagination	pollution
sion	division	confusion	collision
ssion	impression	expression	possession
cian	musician	politician	electrician

Don't 'Shun' These Words! Answers

Can you think of (and spell) the 'tion'/'sion'/'ssion' or 'cian' letter string words that are missing from these sentences?

We always make a prediction before we start any science experiments.

If you've completed your work, please complete the extension activity.

Do you have permission to be out of the classroom?

After watching the magician, I had a go at doing some of the card tricks on my friends!

Finding the Facts Answers

Challenge: Here are some examples of what you could have written to explain why you would, or would not, like to visit the Moon:

For me, a visit to the Moon is something that I feel I must do one day!

modal verb

All my life, I've dreamed about zooming through the Earth's atmosphere in a rocket.

fronted adverbial

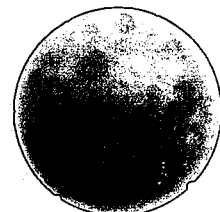

I am sure that I will walk on the Moon in the future as I dream of becoming an astronaut when I am older.

modal verb

If you're feeling brave, you could come too?

fronted adverbial

modal verb

Word Scramble Puzzle Answers

Unscramble these words that all contain either a /g/ sound made with a 'gue' or a /k/ sound made with a 'que'. The numbered squares will also make a /g/ spelt with 'gue' or a /k/ spelt with 'que' secret code word.

t	2	o	n	g	u	e
p	l	a	q	u	5	e
l	e	a	3	g	n	e
i	n	t	1	r	i	g
e	u	n	g	u	4	e
r	o	g	u	e	5

vuega

ringtui

laegu

leuqap

etugno

Think and Write Example Answer

Here's an example of what you could have thought and written...

We found a young hedgehog behind the compost bin.

location preposition

As he was so small, we knew that he needed to eat.

subordinate clause

The cat food was gobbled up very quickly by the hungry hedgehog.

passive sentence

We thought that he'd need somewhere warm to sleep.

apostrophe for contraction

When my dad came home from work, we were making the hedgehog a warm, leafy bed.

past progressive

Definition Detective Answers

3 What does 'belong to the day' mean?

Things that 'belong to the day' are asleep at night when the moon is out and awake during the day.

Extension: Can you write a metaphor to describe the sun rising in the morning?

Possible answers include:

- The dawn seemed to be a struggle.
- Dawn is ablaze.
- Dawn came seeping down the hillside.

Word Scramble Puzzle Answers

Now, use the secret code word in an active and passive sentence.

r	o	g	u	e
1	2	3	4	5

Active sentence

e.g. The rogue stole the diamonds from the bank vault.

Passive sentence

e.g. The diamonds from the bank vault were stolen by the rogue.

What Kind of Sentence Is It? Answers

Can you identify the function of the following sentences?

command

Tidy your room now.

exclamation

What a massive shock I had!

statement

I need to make my bed.

question

You won't tell anyone, will you?

Challenge Answers: e.g. I promise not to tell anyone. (statement)

Definition Detective Answers

2 a) In this poem, what do you think the word 'squalling' means?

loud, harsh cry

strong wind

quiet meow

a brief commotion

b) What does this word suggest about the cats?

This word suggests that the cats are making a lot of noise.

Possible answers include:

- caterwauling
- wailing
- howling
- screeching

Definition Detective Answers

- 1 a) Why does the poet describe the moon as being 'like the clock'?

The face of a clock is large, round and often white. When the full moon shines at night, it is very large, circular and can appear to be almost white.

- b) What type of sentence is this?

This sentence is a simile because it is comparing the moon to something else (a clock).

Possible answers include:

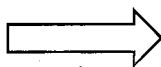

- The crescent moon was like a scythe flashing in the sunlight of the meadow.
- The full moon had a face like a kind, elderly gentleman.

Making New Nouns! Answers

Try to join the prefixes with the words inside the circle to create new nouns. How many different nouns can you make?

superhuman nova hero

antiseptic climax freeze

autobiography

pilot

mobile

Challenge example sentence: Upon meeting his arch enemy, the superhero shouted, "You will never catch me with your simple automobile whilst I have these superhuman powers!"

Think and Write Example Answer

Here's an example of what you could have
thought and written...

Before dawn, mist shrouded the wood in a white cloak.

time preposition

Nobody knew where the railway track led, although one of the children was keen to find out.

subordinate clause

Keisha thought it looked magical and wanted to follow it as far as possible.

proper noun

Her nervous friends thought that they may end up lost if they followed the track.

adjective

What a shock the children received as they turned the corner!

exclamation

Adverb Arrows Answers

Possible answers could be:

never probably surely hardly ever perhaps certainly

